I first read SPACE in 1981 —the SF Public library had a hard-cover copy of it. So this must have been done in 1981 or 1982. Working the night shift at Graphic Reproduction (when it was on 1st & Mission, pre-Bill DiMichele halcyon days), I was able to do quite a few one-of-a-kind books (b & w and color xerox), many of which I would place on the shelves of City Lights when they had a basement jammed with unbound poetry intermingled with the City Lights standards: Ginsberg, Corso, Ferlinghetti.
