SIXIXSIX

In that I want to say something about this text you have just read. Tomorrow I will not remember anything or I feel like Ive been through a clerical nightmare and many speeches are raining on me. I am hearing much more than I am hearing. Easily the way to talk about literature is to speak in contradictions, two-side anonymity. Is this book unfinished? Some infectious voices are wearing wearing on the way we read, on what we listen to. Overheard in a group.

We have included a number of glyph, alphabets, & shapes along with this text to serve as cues for deeper readings & recognitions of the many layers that exist in the text. A book such as this is never finished, should be marked up, prepared, treated or meditated upon. Or are you a speed reader?
